

Tell Tale Tuesday

A day for authors to share the true story behind a scene in one of their books or the true story that inspired the book itself.

Please include all written material in the same document, either in Word or in an rtf document. Please send any images as attachments

Email everything to authorkjpiece (at) gmail (dot) com at least 5 days before your scheduled date

1. Write a (PG-13) blog post telling the story you want to tell. How long you want to make it is up to you.
2. Include your book blurb and an excerpt from the book (usually the scene you're telling the story behind, but any excerpt you'd like to include is fine.)
3. Include your buy links
4. Include your author online links and bio
5. Include a book cover and an author pic, at the very least. Feel free to include other pics if they're applicable to your post.